VALUING ABILITY

Why Job Prospects should be your choice

PUTTING ABILITIES FIRST

At Job Prospects, we don't believe in 'unskilled labour', or the 'dis' in ability. Instead, we help people to identify, develop and make the most of their abilities.

We recognise that people with disabilities are talented, resilient and motivated workers who can deliver real social and economic benefits for businesses and organisations. We appreciate the major role that employers play in helping us to achieve our goals and give young people with disabilities a fair go. We work closely with organisations to help them find suitable employees who match their staffing needs.

Job Prospects is a division of SYC, a not for profit organisation centred on employment, training and youth services. With 45 sites and more than 350 employment services specialists across Melbourne, Adelaide, regional South Australia and Sydney, Job Prospects helps each year more than 36,800 people of all ages to find and keep a job, and thousands of employers to recruit and maintain their workforce.

“They kept encouraging me and telling me I could do it. They never put me down or talked down to me. I hope they keep helping others, because they really helped me.”

Lindsay Moore, Job Prospects Elizabeth

“The team at Job Prospects are all nice people and helped me find this job, they are wonderful people. It was challenging but with their help, I got it at the end.”

Eren Karayasi, Job Prospects Blacktown

EXPERT SUPPORT

Job Prospects works with a diverse group of young people, who are each closely mentored and supported by our team of dedicated employment advocates. We offer ongoing onjob training and support to make sure young people; their caregivers and their families receive the right help at the right time.

We work with employers to modify workplaces, jobs and equipment so they are appropriate for people with disabilities. Our Therapeutic Support Team (TST) is made up of trained professionals in counselling, psychology, occupational therapy and social work to help young people deal with any personal issues that are stopping them from finding and keeping work.

Job Prospects is a leading jobactive and Disability Employment Services - Employment Support Service (DES) provider

We offer specialist employment services for young people who have a disability, helping them to find work and stay in work. We believe every person we work with has the strength and capacity to bring about positive change and build a great future.
